STORY STUDIO

WORKSHEET

WHIPSMART MEDIA

LANGUAGE

+EXERCISE

BRUTE CREATIVITY

Find a random object in your pocket or around your house/workplace. Use it to force a metaphor about your idea.

LANGUAGE
+EXERCISE
EMOTIONAL LANGUAGE
What emotions can you create when you talk about your work? What emotions do you feel about it?

LANGUAGE

+EXERCISE

NUMBERS

What statistics or numbers do you use in your work? Write them down and give them context and meaning by making them visual.

LANGUAGE
+EXERCISE

OPEN YOUR EARS

Start collecting good language. If you hear a good quote, metaphor or turn of phrase, write it down in a notebook or online document.

LANGUAGE

+ASSIGNMENT

DESCRIBE YOUR WORK

What visual or emotional language can you use to aid communication? What systems, processes or structures are difficult to explain? What metaphors could you use?

LANGUAGE

+EXERCISE

PRISMING

There are many vantage points to your story. List the people affected in any way by your work and retell your story from their point of view.

LANGUAGE
+EXERCISE
OPPOSITES
Think about the way you usually talk about your work.
What is the opposite of that?

LANGUAGE

+ASSIGNMENT

WRITE A NEW STORY

Using the storytelling techniques from this episode, tell the story of your work in a completely new way. Remember to include visual, emotional and logical language.

LANGUAGE
+CHAPTER

CONTENT TOOL

WHY?

WHO?

WATCHOUT!

MESSAGE 1:

MESSAGE 2:

MESSAGE 3:

LANGUAGE

+ASSIGNMENT

BUILD A TALK

Thinking about audiences and how we engage them, map out at talk about your work. What interactions will you use? Think about structure story and language.