+LISTENING

START HERE >>>>>

Active listening is a technique that enables you to fully concentrate on what others are saying, and to understand their complete message.

It can make you more effective at work, increase your ability to influence and negotiate, and prevent misunderstandings.

WBM

1

PAY ATTENTION

Look at the speaker, be aware of their body language, and ignore distractions.

3

PROVIDE FEEDBACK

Reflect the speaker's words back to them, and ask questions to check that you understand correctly.

5

RESPOND APPROPRIATELY

Be open, honest and respectful of the speaker's opinion - even if you don't agree with it. If you understand one another's positions, you can work toward a shared goal.

SHOW THAT YOU'RE LISTENING

Nod, smile and say "yes" or uh-huh from time to time, to encourage the speaker to continue.

4

DEFER JUDGEMENT

Allow the speaker finish their point before you offer a counter argument. It's a discussion not a race!

Make sure that you really hear what the other person is saying. Stay focused, and avoid falling back into old habits. Becoming an active listener can increase your productivity, improve your relationships, and help you to avoid conflict.
